LIBRARY TIP

There is no 'one-stop shop' when it comes to finding journal articles online. An article may be available in Westlaw, in Lexis Library, in another database or directly from the publisher website. Do not rely on just Westlaw or Lexis Library because they do not have it all!

Try DISCOVER. It is a search engine which searches multiple databases, including Westlaw and Lexis Library saving you time and searching resources you may not have considered. Access DISCOVER from the University of Liverpool home page at <https://www.liverpool.ac.uk/library/> or click the DISCOVER icon above.

Just paste the title of the article into the search box and click the Search button:
