the securing of its peaceful use by members and other persons lawfully resorting thereto.

(2) The Committee may, in any regulations made by it under this section, prescribe fines, not exceeding $20 in each case, to be imposed for breaches of such regulations.

(3) All regulations made by the Committee under the powers conferred by this section must be submitted for the approval of the Governor and, when approved, gazetted and thereupon have the same force and effect as if they formed part of this Law.

Penalty on member not returning books, etc.

21. If any member fails, neglects, or refuses to return any book or other article belonging to the Library within such period as may have been prescribed, it is lawful for the Librarian to deliver to such member a written notice requiring him to return such book or other article within seven days from the date of such notice, and to pay any fine which he may have incurred in respect of such failure, neglect or refusal. If any member fails to comply with such notice within the time therein specified, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $20 in addition to the value of the book or other article and to the amount of the fine incurred.

Wilful damage to property.

22. It is lawful for the Librarian or any other person authorized by the Committee to take summary proceedings against any person who wilfully damages or destroys any book or other article belonging to the Library; and such person is liable to a penalty not exceeding $20, in addition to the value of the book or other article so damaged or destroyed.

Persons suffering from communicable disease.

23. (1) If any person knows that he is suffering from a communicable disease he shall not take or use any book or other article, or permit or cause any book or other article to be taken for his use, or for the use of any person in his house, from the Library.

(2) No person may permit any book or other article which has been taken from the Library and is under his control to be used by any person who he knows or suspects to be suffering from any communicable disease.

(3) No person may return to the Library any book or other article which he knows to have been exposed to infection from any communicable disease, or permit any such book or other article which is under his control to be so returned; but must give notice to the Librarian and to the Government Medical Officer that such book or other article has been so exposed to infection, and the Government Medical Officer is to cause the book or other article to be disinfected to his satisfaction and returned to the Library, or, if it cannot be satisfactorily disinfected, to be destroyed.

(4) Whoever contravenes this section is liable to a penalty not exceeding $20.

Offences in Library premises.

24. Whoever, in any part of the Library —
(a) behaves in a disorderly manner; or
